

Assistant / Associate/ Full Professor Anatomic Pathologist

A veterinary anatomic pathologist is sought for an open rack full-time continuous career track (clinical track) or tenure track faculty position in the Department of Veterinary Microbiology and Pathology (VMP) and the Washington Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory (WADDL) in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Washington State University, Pullman, WA. The successful applicant will have opportunities to participate in diagnostic service in WADDL, clinical and didactic instruction of professional veterinary students and residents and conduct collaborative research/ scholarship that aligns with VMP and WADDL. The amount of effort dedicated to each area is negotiable. Expectations for scholarship/ research will be greater for a successful tenure track applicant, appropriate to rank. For individuals at the Associate and Full Professor level, there is opportunity for leadership within WADDL. The position is embedded in a new, state-of-the-art 60,000 sq. ft. veterinary medical diagnostic laboratory providing diagnostic service to veterinarians, agriculture producers, and clients in our veterinary teaching hospital. WADDL is an AAVLD accredited full service veterinary diagnostic laboratory, and a Tier 1 USDA National Animal Health Laboratory Network (NAHLN) laboratory at the forefront of animal disease surveillance. The faculty environment is collegial, highly supportive and includes productive interactions with four ACVM boarded microbiologists, a boarded toxicologist, state regulatory and public health veterinarians, and infectious disease researchers. Teaching in the preclinical veterinary curriculum is expected in either General Pathology, Systemic Pathology, and/or other relevant courses. Effort can also be directed to scholarly activity and academic service with an expectation for creative publication that is synergistic with VMP and WADDL's clinical, teaching and research missions. Please visit <https://vmp.vetmed.wsu.edu> and <https://waddl.vetmed.wsu.edu> for more information about faculty and programs. This position includes a competitive institutional salary ranging from $142,000-$180,000 commensurate with qualifications and experience. In accordance with RCW 49.58.110, the above salary reflects the full salary range for this position. Individual placement within the range is based on the candidate's current experience, education, skills, and abilities related to the position. WSU offers a comprehensive benefits package which includes paid sick and vacation leave; paid holidays; medical, dental, life and disability insurance package for employees and dependents; retirement; deferred compensation and optional supplemental retirement accounts.
